THE TOWN WITH A TERRITORY

Volume IV

CARLSBAD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, JUNE 3, 1915

No. 24

S. Soderholm arrived of Lough-ed arrived in town on Tuesday and this week will prove up his land near town.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Eggleston of Huron, S. D. are guests of A. E.
Ames. Mrs. Eggleston is a sister of Mr. Ames.

If the Hotel Goes--What Then?

The only positive side which the Prohibitory Liquor Act possesses is that it extinguishes the licenses to sell alcoholic liquors. In all other respects it is negative. It takes no cognizance of the existence of hotels after the licenses of these have been withdrawn, nor does it even take into account the providing of a substitute for the licensed bar. A propoganda so one-sided in character carries in itself its own failure.

Take, for example, the matter of the licensed bar. If prohibition had the support of all the people it is only reasonable to suppose that the closing of the licensed bar would mean a complete cessation of the demand for the liquors sold in the bar. Is this the case in actual practice? Very far from it. Prohibition altogether ignores the natural desire of mankind for a certain extent of relaxation and enjoyment.
The bar supplies such a desire in the case of many people. This is entirely a matter of history. Whether it is right or wrong is quite a different matter. Deprived of the facilities of obtaining that which they were accustomed to procure in a legitimate manner before and still being possessed of a desire which prohibition has left untouched, people resort to illicit sources of supply, in order to gratify a desire which has been made not unusually wrong but unlawful by reason of a measure of coercion promoted by people who delight in running contrary to world old human nature.

If prohibition is a measure which has the goodwill of the whole body of the people, and is growing in favor, how does it come to pass that in restricted territory drunkenness is increasing, that illicit liquor convictions are increasing and excesses of all kinds are growing in volume all the time? Why also should it be necessary to impose more severe penalties and call for a more rigorous enforcement of the prohibitory laws if prohibition has the support of the people in these districts. What are the circumstances which cause the leaders of the Moral and Social Reform League to assert that the whole province is ripe for prohibition? Wherein do these differ from other places?

There can be no doubt that the one-sidedness of prohibition is responsible to a very large extent for its failure. The advocates of this class of measure seem to think that when it has been carried their work is done. A new order of things to take the place of that which they have removed apparently never enters into their minds. As a matter of fact the carrying of prohibition is only the beginning of a changed era which should be handled with care. Instead of showing improved conditions the longer it is in force restriction is steadily going from bad to worse. Not a single promise made by the advocates of prohibition as to what it would do has been kept. Note the experience of Prince Edward Island, of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and the "dry" portions of Ontario.

What is the constructive policy of the promoters of prohibition or have they such a policy? What are they to do in the matter of hotel accommodation, and how do they propose to fill the void caused by the withdrawal of the licensed bar?
It is entirely fair that the promoters of prohibition should be called upon to declare where they stand in relation to these important matters. They propose to interfere with an existing situation. Is interference the whole sum and substance of their propaganda? People will wait for a reply with no little interest.

The fact that excessive indulgence in alcoholic liquors in the so-called "dry" districts of Ontario is increasing shows that the people in these are establishing their own substitute for the licensed bar.

There is a marked contrast between legitimate and illegitimate sources of liquor supply. The former are regulated by statute and are under the constant supervision of the authorities. The illicit sources of supply closing hours are unknown. There is no protection for young persons, the character of the liquor supplied is detrimental physically and mentally and the whole surroundings and methods of such excesses are demoralizing in the extreme. Can a measure which not only permits but by its complete ignoring of anything in the nature of substitutes, actually fosters the multiplying of such resorts, be called a measure of reform? Is a measure of this kind worthy the support of men and women who are genuinely desirous of helping to uplift humanity? Put alongside these prohibition gains the underground corruption which neither the prohibitionists nor their measure can do anything to cope with. The front of the picture may be fair to look at, but the back is being eaten into and bids fair to mar the whole picture before very long.

Prohibition wherever exhibited is a hollow mockery. In pushing it in the face of existing circumstances, the advocates of the measure do not rate the intelligence of the voters of Alberta very highly. It requires a colossal assurance to push forward a measure, which is discarded in actual operation. Let the promoters of prohibition enlighten people why it is that their measure is as one-sided as ever.
They might also say how they reconcile the actual results of prohibition elsewhere with previous promises and why matters are going worse instead of better? It is not clay trap sentiment or vague plat-itudes that are wanted, but plain, prosaic matter-of-fact statements.

"Recognized as the Lucky Man of Today," is the legend of the picture on a very neat bill which has been issued announcing the Calgary Industrial Exhibition for June 30th to July 7th. The "Lucky Man" is the farmer who is shown in this instance on the top of a load of hay. Farmers, stockmen, housewives, boys and girls are always interested in Calgary's fair because of the generous premiums offered for exhibits; but for those who are looking for something more spectacular, there is a very interesting programme. Over six thousand soldiers from all parts of the province who are to be in camp there will participate in the grand military tattoo which will comprise several regional bands, and with the usual attractions and races, the fair this year promises to be more interesting than ever it was. Several from this section are arranging to take advantage of the cheap rates and see the big Calgary Exhibition.

Our Outside Subscribers

LAST week the News received a letter from a subscriber in Oregon. He said: "I hope that from week to week the News will publish a crop report." We answered the gentleman that we do our best: but we wish to draw the attention of our distant subscribers to the country district news appearing in this paper. We have the finest correspondents connected with any Alberta paper; they are quite competent, and if one takes the time to peruse their weekly budgets, they will certainly glean some intelligence as to weather and crops. Just at present the weather and grain are ideal. The weather could not be improved on if we ordered it ourselves.

The News

THE thirty-five citizens who attended the town meeting on the 22nd ultimo will remember that there was some very complimentary things said about the Carlstadt local paper. As the gentleman who said the nice things about the News was not contradicted, but appeared to have the majority of the meeting with him, we cannot let another issue pass without expressing our gratitude. When an editor gets what we got that night it only makes it a pleasure to try and keep the old tub floating. Ups and downs comes to the News but the loyalty of our advertisers has so far made it possible to give the town a clean news sheet every week without a single break for four and a half years.

Carlstadt and Patriotism

POSSIBLY no town or district in Western Canada faced a harder proposition at the beginning of last winter, than did our own fair town. But in spite of that fact, Carlstadt has been enabled to raise in round figures, during the past winter and early spring $220.00 for patriotic purposes. If prospects are maintained for a few weeks more and bountiful crops result, even this splendid record will be exceeded during the fall of 1915 and spring of 1916, should the war drag on then.

GIVES SOUND ADVICE ON PRICE QUESTION

Manufacturers' Organ Gives Warning—No Price Increases Except For Good Reason

"Industrial Canada," the official organ of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, recently contained a strong editorial on the increase of manufacturers' prices, which has come in certain industries as a result of the war revenue customs duties.

The editorial is in part as follows: If the manufacturers of Canada make a general advance in the prices of their goods with the deliberate intention to absorb the whole of the recent 7 1/2 per cent. tariff increase, they will formulate a policy which will react disastrously upon themselves.

Such a course is certain to arouse hostility among those consumers who were of the opinion that the tariff was too high before the increase was made; and it will chill the warpath with which the remaining consumers have supported the policy of protection.

Raising prices up to the new limit will operate directly against the "Made-in-Canada" campaign. The 7 1/2 per cent. tariff increase gives the Canadian manufacturer an advantage over foreign competition. If he raises the price of his article 7 1/2 per cent. he immediately loses that advantage. Consequently, the "Made-in-Canada" article which might be sold, is in the same danger of being replaced by the foreign article as it was in before the tariff increase was made.

Creates Confidence Now is the time, under the shelter of slightly increased protection, to encourage the habit of using Canadian goods in preference to foreign goods.

Rising prices also tends to diminish output. The buying power of Canadians at present is restricted, and every addition to the selling prices of goods makes it more difficult for consumers to buy them. On the contrary, lower prices will allow a greater volume of sales, will diminish the consumer's hardship, will give more employment to workers and will lighten the grip of German manufactures upon their home market.

If the manufacturers will concentrate upon the problem of keeping the price as nearly as possible at the old level they will create a permanent asset in the gratitude of hard pressed consumers.

Consumers, however, must not hastily conclude that there will be no increase in the prices of manufactured goods. While any general advance, aiming at the unjustified absorption of the 7 1/2 per cent. tariff increase cannot be too strongly opposed, it is absurd to argue that no prices should be advanced. Each article must be separated from any enveloping general policy and dealt with on its own merits. What are the items entering into the cost of production? Have they been increased? If they have, it is only fair that the price of the article should be increased. If they are not then the price of the article should stand.

Influence of War There is, in some quarters, a most unfair attempt to bring blame to lay on the recent tariff measure the entire blame for increased prices in spite of the fact that in countries where no tariff increases have been made, prices are rising. According to the "New York Annalist," the average wholesale price of twenty-five food commodities, representing a thorough family's food budget, which was 1915, 146 in 1914, now fluctuates around 154.

Scarcity, interruption to communications, shrinkage in production, and other allies of war are sending prices up all over the world. War always increases the cost of living. It would be strange if Canada should escape the general law. We cannot have it both ways. We cannot profit by war's high prices for what we have to sell and avoid war's high prices for what we have to buy.

A man out of a job, or only partially employed, is a poor customer. You much prefer, don't you, to deal with customers whom you know are earning good wages in thriving local industries? Their credit is good—they pay their bills.

LOYALTY TO CANADA AND HER WORKSHOPS

Women Shoppers Can do Much For "Made-in-Canada" When They Are Making Purchases

The editor of the "Department Store Magazine," a United States publication, has a strong article on the "Made-in-America" movement, which is a feature of United States commercial life today. Speaking of the place that women occupy in the nation's purchasing, he says:

"Upon the great mass of intelligent American women, who daily stream through the doors of our forty-five hundred department stores, rests a heavy weight of responsibility. It is for them to say whether some of the greatest industries in the country shall suffer or whether they shall come through the crisis stronger and more prosperous than ever."

"America can make everything that is necessary to the life and happiness of any man or woman. The most luxurious and beautiful fabrics can be produced here. Our carpets and rugs imitate the cunning of the Oriental weaver and often surpass any work in originality of pattern. The furniture made in America is unsurpassed, and our glass and china compare favorably with the finest importations."

The remaining three paragraphs are also taken from Mr. Platt's article, but in each case we have substituted the word "Canada" for "America," as there is no doubt that what Mr. Platt says about the goods made in United States applies equally as well to those made in Canada. In fact there is an even greater reason why Canada should be loyal to the products of her own workpeople and her own workshops. Canada is a young country in the early stages of industrial development. It has a small population spread thinly over a large area. Unless all interests in Canada combine to promote the general welfare, our progress is sure to be much slower than we have been accustomed to during the future years of reconstruction, which will inevitably follow the war.

Revised Version

"Made in Canada" should be the motto of every shopper who enters a store. It is more than a mere trade slogan; it is a precept of patriotism.

"Made in Canada" means busy factories in Canada; it means happy working people in Canada; it means fat pay envelopes in thousands of Canadian homes on Saturday night; it means the banishment of the bazaar of hard times and the return of prosperity for all of us despite the war. And after the war is over it means a greater Canada than ever before, a Canada that will supply the world and reap the reward of a higher patriotism than that which is being voiced by European cannon.

All this can be accomplished if every purchaser who enters a store will choose Canadian made goods. The great merchants are eager to meet this demand, and it is up to the shopper to see that the good things made in Canada do not lie idle on the shelves.

OUR BUSINESS INSTINCT

It's Good For Canada to Buy Canadian Goods

In a democracy like Canada manufacturers and consumers meet on a common level. Each looks to the other to do his part in this Made-in-Canada campaign. We need no paternal government to advise us. We need no tea commercial commandments as they have in Germany. This is a land of liberty. We think and speak as we like in loyalty to our own commercial interest. If we don't recognize that buying things made in this country is good for our pockets, our homes or our businesses, we naturally buy things made somewhere else. It's because we are finding out for ourselves without any paternal commandments from the supreme bureau, that it pays in every way to buy Canadian goods, that we are entering a campaign to do it. The German decalogue treats German consumers like a pack of children. The business sense of the average liberty-loving Canadian demands to be treated like a full-grown man. We don't need to be told that it's good for Canada that we buy goods made by Canadians. We know that; the same as we know that fresh air and good food are beneficial to the health. We don't even call it patriotism. It's just ordinary everyday, selfish business instinct.

It is practical patriotism to give the preference to goods "Made-in-Canada," and it is practical self-interest as well. Your money stays in Canada—helps up Canadian trade generally—and so helps to create a prosperity in which you share.
